As a McNulty Associate, provided you meet all the requirements for academic achievement and program participation, in addition to a partial tuition scholarship for four academic years you will be provided the following opportunities:

- Mentoring: McNulty Associates will be mentored regularly by a faculty member within her major field of study and will have the opportunity to enroll in professional associations and to attend scholarly conferences associated with her academic discipline. They will be encouraged to participate in the McNulty Scholars peer-mentoring program.

- Networking and Professional Development: McNulty Associates will be given the opportunity to participate in leadership programming. They will be expected to participate in McNulty Scholars programming, including the McNulty Lecture series and receptions, and have the opportunity to interact with leading STEM professionals.

- Summer Scholars: McNulty Associates will be given an opportunity to participate in the Saint Joseph’s University Summer Scholars Program or the McNulty Fellows Program through a competitive application process.

- Professional Internships: McNulty Associates will receive assistance with internships and other professional development activities.

- Senior Capstone Experience: Each McNulty Associate will be encouraged, during her senior year, to engage in a meaningful Capstone experience that may take several forms, such as a professional internship, year-long basic or applied research project under the supervision of a faculty mentor for academic credit, or participation in a faculty-mentored leadership development program.
