GAZA: Multiple Perspectives

A Panel Discussion

Thursday, February 19, 11:30-12:45
Bellarmine, Rm. 113

The current situation in Gaza begs many questions: how did it come to this? What role does religion play in the conflict? Where do “we” (Israel; Palestine; Middle East neighbors; the community of nations) go from here? What role should the U.S. play in negotiations? What hope is there for peace in the future?

Panelists will share their perspectives on these and other questions. Ample time will be provided for audience responses and discussion.

Panelists:

Dr. Lisa Baglione
Professor and Chair, Political Science Department

Dr. Philip Cunningham
Director, Institute for Jewish-Catholic Relations
Professor, Theology Department

Rabbi Alan Iser
Committee Member, Philadelphia Board of Rabbis
Adjunct Professor, Theology Department

Dr. Isra Yazicioglu
Assistant Professor, Theology Department

Moderator: Dr. Elizabeth Linehan, RSM, Professor, Philosophy Department

Sponsored by The Dean’s Office of the College of Arts & Sciences; The Theology Department; the International Relations Program; The Institute for Jewish-Catholic Relations; the Teaching Institute; Students for Peace and Justice; and the Faith-Justice Institute.