

RESIDENTIAL LIVING POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The development of a successful residential community depends on all members working to make the community a pleasant, fair, and fun place to live. To ensure an environment that works for a diverse community of students, please familiarize yourself with the following policies, procedures and expectations governing residential living at Saint Joseph's University. Students in violation of these policies, procedures, and regulations may be subject to disciplinary action under the Community Standards. Questions concerning these policies and expectations should be directed to any member of the Residence Life staff. These policies may be amended during the course of the academic year as needed. Please also refer to the Housing Contract for additional policies and procedures.

First and Second Year Residency Requirement

Residential living is a valuable part of a student's social and educational experience; therefore, first and second year students are required to live in University housing. In cases of extraordinary financial or medical need, requests for exemptions to this requirement will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. Students granted an exemption must live with a parent or legal guardian. Requests for an exemption must be submitted in writing to the Housing Contract Review Committee, c/o the Office of Residence Life, with included supporting documentation.

Housing

Assignments

Housing assignments and placements are the exclusive responsibility of the Office of Residence Life. Residence Life reserves the right to change or modify housing assignments and fill housing vacancies as necessary for reasons of health, safety, discipline, or consolidation purposes. Students may not change assignments without authorization. Attempts to manipulate the housing assignment process may result in disciplinary action.

Cancellation of Housing Contract

If you have already signed your housing contract and later find yourself in a situation that requires cancellation of the contract, you should submit your request, in writing, to the Office of Residence Life. Written requests for a contract release must be received no later than April 1, prior to the start of the fall semester. Requests for contract release for the spring semester must be received no later than December 1. Students granted contract releases may be charged a $650 Contract Release Fee, in addition to losing their $350 non-refundable housing deposit. The University reserves the right to cancel a housing contract and remove a student from residence for failure to meet his/her financial obligations to the University.

Move In/Move Out

To create the smoothest flow possible with minimal disruption to SJU's neighbors and surrounding community, the Office of Residence Life establishes and regulates move-in and move-out dates, times, and procedures. Students must move-in/move-out according to these dates and times. Failure to do so may result in a $100 fine.

There are limited instances when the Office of Residence Life might permit students to access their residence hall room or apartment prior to scheduled move-in dates or remain in their room beyond scheduled move-out dates. If a student is participating in a University-sponsored event or activity, the sponsoring staff or faculty member must request, in writing, permission for the student's accommodation. In other extraordinary circumstances, students are encouraged to speak directly with their Area Coordinator.

Terms of Occupancy

In signing a University Housing Contract, students agree to move into the space they have been assigned on or after the date specified by Residence Life and to move out of their residence hall space within 24 hours of their last examination for the semester, graduation, suspension, withdrawal, leave of absence, termination of full-time student status, or by the date and time of residence hall closing. Upon move-out, students are expected to return the space to its original, clean condition.

Vacation Periods/University Holidays

Although residence hall and food service operations are closed when the University is not in session, Residence Life attempts to accommodate students who cannot leave campus, need to return early, or stay late during vacation periods. Depending on the length of the vacation period and the demand for housing, students may either be permitted to remain in their regular rooms or will be asked to consolidate into another building for reasons of safety and security. All requests to remain on campus for a particular break or to return early must be made in writing to the Office of Residence Life at least two weeks prior to the close of the halls for that particular holiday. The dates and times the halls will close and re-open are available on the Office of Residence Life web site. Students who fail to notify Residence Life or follow proper holiday housing procedures are in violation of the Community Standards and may face sanctions and/or fines.

Students who receive permission to remain on campus when the University is closed are still subject to all University Policies. Students who violate campus policy while on campus during a University holiday will be asked to find other off campus accommodations for the remainder of the break period, and may not be permitted to stay on campus during subsequent vacation periods. Guest privileges and visitation may be suspended during break periods.

Room Changes

Room changes are accommodated through the Open Room Change Process, which occurs after the second week of the Fall and Spring semesters. Students are not permitted to make a room change without prior approval from the Office of Residence Life. An unauthorized room change will result in a fine of $50 per student and possible disciplinary action. No student, under any circumstances, can force another student to move out of their assigned space. Any such efforts will be referred for disciplinary action. During the first weeks of each semester, the Office of Residence Life will consolidate rooms when necessary.

Room Condition

All residential students are strongly encouraged to complete a room condition report (RCR) form at move-in. The RCR form is used to compare the condition of the room at move-out to the original condition of the room. Students should note any room damages, missing furniture or discrepancies on the RCR. Students are responsible for any damage in the room that was not noted at the time the room condition report was first signed. Unless one resident accepts responsibility for particular damage, all occupants of the room/suite/floor will share equally the cost of repair or replacement for damaged items. Upon move-in, if a room condition report is not signed and returned to the Area Coordinator by the publicized due date, Residence Life will assume that the room was without damage at move-in. If damages are discovered upon move-out, the students residing in the room will be charged for all repairs. Residents who change rooms during the course of the year are reminded to sign off on their old room condition reports and to sign in on the reports for the new room. It is the responsibility of the resident who changes rooms to acquire a new room condition report from the Office of Residence Life.

Room Furniture

Students accept responsibility for all University-provided room furnishings. Room furniture (including bed frames) may not be stored, moved to another room or taken from the residence halls. If furniture is removed from the residence hall, the student moving the furniture will be fined, billed for any damage or loss, and referred to the Office of Community Standards for theft of University property. All furniture in the student's room at the time that the student moves in must remain in the room and be in the same condition upon check-out. In certain extended housing placements, lofts are provided by the University. Only these University-provided lofts are permitted in the residence halls.

Condition of Common Area and Common Area Furniture

So that all students have a common area in which to gather, the Office of Residence Life supplies common area lounge furniture. This furniture cannot be moved to individual student rooms. Students who move lounge or study furniture into their rooms from common areas will pay a $100 fine and will be required to return the furniture to its proper location. Subsequent violations will result in further disciplinary actions.

The residents of a hall are responsible for the condition of University owned furnishings and property in their public areas. Damaged or missing University property will be billed to the residents of that particular suite, hall or building.

Room Cleaning

Students are required to maintain a level of cleanliness and safety in their rooms. All personal room space and private bathrooms are to be cleaned by the residents of the space. Although custodial service is provided for public areas, students are also expected to assist in keeping those areas clean. In situations where areas are excessively dirty, the residents of that hall will be charged for the necessary cleaning, unless the area is returned to a reasonable order by a specified time. Typically, excessive cleaning charges range from $50 to $150 per resident.

Residents are prohibited from placing their trash cans or bags outside of their room doors. All trash is to be carried to the trash room or external dumpster. Failure to adhere to these procedures will result in fines or further sanctions.

Facilities & Maintenance

Vandalism and Damage Billing

The cost of any repairs as a result of normal wear will be covered by the University. Repairs that are required because of vandalism will be billed to the individual responsible for the damage. In the event that the individual at fault is not identified, the building, suite, floor or hall will share the cost of repairing the damage. Students will receive an e-mail when their student account is billed for any damage. The students who are billed may appeal the assessment for damages. All appeals for damage bills must be submitted in writing to the Office of Residence Life within 30 days of the date of the bill.

Facility Repairs/Work Requests and Related Procedures

Routine Repairs

SJU maintains a trained facilities management department, which is responsible for repairing, maintaining and assessing University equipment. If there is a non-emergency malfunction related to SJU equipment, students should contact the maintenance group by using one of the following:

- Phone: 610-660-3030 (24 hours a day, non-emergency)
- Email: fixit@sju.edu, or
- http://www.sju.edu/facilities_management. Click on work order request.
- Lancaster Court residents should e-mail: LCRepairs@sju.edu

Routine repairs that should be brought to the attention of Facilities Management personnel include but are not limited to:

- Room lighting issues
- General wear and tear of university furniture
- Improper operation of heating and air conditioning systems
- Broken washers and dryers
- Pest control issues (Facilities Management additionally provides pest control services on a regularly scheduled basis).

Telephone and data line issues should be directed to Information Technology, 610-660-3070.

Cable TV issues should be directed to Comcast Cable Customer Service at 215-992-2712. Students living in Lancaster Court should contact Hotwire at 610-642-8570.

Emergency Repairs

Emergency service work is that which is needed to address hazards to life, health, property or interruption of utilities (electric, water, gas, etc.), and also hazards that would cause sufficient disruption to scheduled activities. This work is normally completed the same day as it is requested. Emergency work requests are received from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. by contacting Facilities Management at 610-660-3000 or at Room 110 Moore Hall. After-hours and holidays, emergency service may be requested through Public Safety and Security, 610-660-1111.

When a student's personal items are damaged by a building facility issue such as a flood, fire, etc., the University will cover facility-related damage in an amount not to exceed $250 per student per incident. Replacement costs for personal item(s) exceeding this amount are expected to be covered by students' homeowner/renter's insurance.

Health and Safety Inspections

At least once a semester and at the beginning of each break period, Residence Life staff will conduct formal Health and Safety Inspections to ensure the safety of students' personal belongings and University property. Guidelines for Health and Safety Inspections will be distributed by the Residence Life Staff and are available on the Residence Life website <http://ww.sju.edu/residence-life>. Failure of a Health and Safety Inspection can result in a fine of $25 per resident and/or other educational sanctions.

In addition to formal inspections, unannounced health, fire, safety or maintenance inspections may be made of residence halls or residence rooms by University personnel or health officials. Maintenance personnel may enter student rooms throughout the year to make necessary repairs. Upon completion of the academic year, Residence Life and Facilities Management personnel will inspect student rooms and common areas for damages.

Fines

As in many communities, SJU operates on an “honor” code. When that code is violated (as in the case of vandalism), the University may impose fines to help offset the cost of damages or repairs. The Office of Residence Life publishes and ultimately levies certain fines in order to deter students from dangerous and negative behavior in our residential communities. Fines may be imposed singularly or in conjunction with other disciplinary sanctions. All money collected from student fines is put back into the residential communities through hall improvements and community programs and initiatives.

Air Conditioning

Some residence halls and apartments are air-conditioned with either central air conditioning or window units. Students may not install any type of air conditioning in buildings that are not already equipped with university air conditioning. A full listing of residence halls with AC is available at www.sju.edu/residencelife/ under the Housing Information link.

Students who have a documented need for air conditioning will be assigned to an air-conditioned residence hall or apartment. Medical conditions do not guarantee the selection of a specific room assignment, but only an assignment that meets the specific needs. Actual room assignment will be made by the Office of Residence Life.

Community Behavior

Living in community requires sensitivity toward and respect for the needs of others. SJU is an educational institution comprised of people from all backgrounds and belief systems, with differing expectations for community living. To protect the right of each student to a pleasant, fun and fair place to live, civil behavior is expected by all community members. Students are encouraged to respectfully confront inappropriate or disruptive behavior and to seek out the assistance of student and professional Residence Life staff members.

Academic Atmosphere/Quiet Hours

University residences are centers for a complete living/learning experience. To facilitate this process, the residence hall environment must be a place where students have the opportunity to excel academically. Therefore, it is important to establish specific times when students can be assured of having a quiet study atmosphere.

In consideration of those who wish to sleep or study, all students are expected to maintain a quiet environment between 10:00 p.m. and 9:00 a.m. weekdays and between midnight and 9:00 a.m. on weekends. During quiet hours, there should be no excessive noise (such as a stereo that can be heard in the hallway) in rooms, suites, or hallways. During exams, 24 hour quiet hours are in effect. Consideration hours are in effect within the residence halls 24 hours a day. All students should feel encouraged to speak with their neighbors about any noise concerns.

Disruptive Behavior

The University reserves the right to reassign or revoke on-campus housing or take other necessary action, without a formal hearing, for those students whose behavior is considered disruptive or potentially detrimental to the wellbeing of the individual, roommates, and/or others in the residential community.

Alcohol Policy in Residence Halls

Members of the residence hall community must abide by the University's alcohol policy. The misuse of alcohol often has a negative impact on individuals and entire communities. Through education and enforcement, the Office of Residence Life seeks to encourage resident students' adherence to the law and to University policy. The Office of Residence Life further expects students over the age of 21 who choose to drink alcohol to do so responsibly and with no disruption to the residential community.

In accordance with the law and with the University's alcohol policy, the following regulations apply to possession and/or use of alcohol in the residence halls:

- Residents who are 21 or older may possess a limited and reasonable quantity of alcoholic beverages for their own personal consumption. Amounts over this may be confiscated by University personnel.
- Residents who are 21 or older may not possess an open alcohol container or consume alcohol in the presence of anyone under 21. This includes roommates and guests.

- Possession of alcohol containers (full or empty) by persons under age 21 is prohibited.
- Alcohol containers (full or empty) cannot be displayed or used as decoration.
- Regardless of age, resident students and guests are prohibited from possessing or using drinking game paraphernalia.

* Resident students are encouraged to reference the University Alcohol Policy for a full discussion of behavioral expectations.

Drug Paraphernalia

For the health and well-being of the community, drug paraphernalia (including but not limited to bongos, pipes, hookahs, rolling papers, filter tubes, etc.) of any kind is prohibited. Any student found in violation of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action.

Fire Safety Precaution

Fires are a serious threat in a residential community, and one that the Office of Residence Life takes very seriously. Fire safety is everyone's responsibility. Carelessness affects not only one student's safety, but, that of every resident of the building. All residents should actively avoid creating fire hazards. Resident students are not permitted to:

- Smoke anywhere in any University residence building.
- Possess or use candles, incense or oil lamps.
- Possess a non-university issued mattress.
- Cover exterior of room door with flammable decorations.
- Use non-fire retardant window coverings.
- Hang items from fire sprinkler heads, pipes, heat detectors, or smoke detectors.
- Cover or tamper with smoke detectors.
- Hang items from lights or ceilings.
- Hang lights out of windows or over top of window coverings.
- Use Medusa lamps with plastic shades, halogen lamps, holiday/ decorative lamps, (rope lighting), or electrical decorations that are not UL approved.
- Overload electrical outlets (MUST use surge protectors).
- Run electrical cords under carpets or furniture.

- Bring in live Christmas trees.
- Put anything in front of, on top of, or against heating vents or radiators.
- Store excessive trash, paper, or flammable items (paint, fuel, propane tanks, etc.).
- Have explosive devices (fireworks, firearms and weapons).
- Use open flames inside/outside the buildings (i.e. barbecue grills).
- Use toaster ovens, hot plates, sandwich makers, waffle irons, halogen lights or George Foreman type cooking apparatuses (not applicable in Campus Apartments).

This list is not all inclusive. Additional items may be added as deemed necessary by University personnel or as outlined in the University's Housing Contract. Violating the aforementioned is considered a violation of the Community Standards and can carry heavy fines ranging from $50 to $200.

Fire Safety Regulations

Alarms: The University holds routine fire safety drills once each month in accordance with Pennsylvania State Law, and all residents are expected to participate. Students may not disregard a fire alarm or refuse to evacuate a building in which an alarm is sounding, regardless of its nature (drill, false alarm, or actual alert). Residents who fail to evacuate a building in a voluntary and timely manner will be subject to disciplinary action and possible change or removal of University housing. Initiating a false fire alarm is a clear violation of Community Standards and can be sanctioned with a fine of $500.

Equipment: Tampering with or misuse of fire safety equipment (extinguishers, smoke detectors, alarms, sprinklers, exit signs) is considered to be exceptionally dangerous behavior in a residential community. Such behavior represents a serious violation of the Community Standards and can result in fines up to $200.

Indoor Athletic Activities

To avoid personal injury and/or damage to the halls and the sensitive sprinkler systems, playing of athletic games is prohibited within the residence halls.

Solicitation

Any group which is not affiliated with the University and seeks to solicit in residence halls must be approved by the Office of Residence Life.

Any campus organization or residence hall group wishing to sell items for fund raising purposes must also have the approval of the Office of Residence Life. Students may not use their residence hall rooms as a principal place of business. Any student who suspects that an individual or a group is soliciting illegally should contact a Residence Life staff member immediately and/or contact Public Safety and Security at 610-660-1111.

Posting Policy

Any flyers or advertisements to be hung in the residence halls must be approved by the Area Coordinator or must bear the Student Leadership and Activities stamp per the University posting policy. Advertisements must be posted on bulletin boards and cannot be posted on windows, doors, elevators, etc. If an individual or a group posts information improperly, the advertisement will be removed and the individual or group will be charged to repair any damage to the building surfaces. Flyers advertising alcohol or flyers that are in any way offensive will not be permitted.

Release of Information Policy

Periodically, individuals and companies contact the Office of Residence Life seeking the addresses and telephone numbers of resident students. The Office of Residence Life will not release the campus addresses and telephone numbers or the home addresses and telephone numbers of any resident student except for room/roommate assignment purposes.

Pet Policy

Due to health concerns associated with animals living in the residence halls, the only pets that are permitted are fish kept in tanks less than 20 gallons. Violation of this policy will result in a $50 fine per student in addition to cleaning fees and any other costs associated with damages (i.e. pest control if necessary), for the first violation. A second infraction of this nature will result in an increased fine, and further disciplinary actions.

Residence Hall Security

The Residence Life staff and Public Safety and Security work constantly to better ensure the safety of all residents. The most secure facilities, however, are those in which residents exercise common sense and have a genuine concern for other residents.

For the safety and security of all residents and their personal property, Saint Joseph's University stations an attendant at the front lobby desk of each residence center and apartment building. All students are required to carry their SJU identification card on their person and must manually swipe their card at the entrance and at the security desk of their residence hall. Only authorized individuals are permitted in the University's residence halls. Students are expected to report any unauthorized persons to the Office of Public Safety and Security (610-660-1111) and/or a Residence Life staff member.

Public Safety officers will make periodic rounds through all residence halls. For security reasons, exterior and suite doors are designed to lock automatically upon closing. Residents may not prop open fire exit doors or hallway/suite doors and may not loan keys so that others may gain access to the buildings. These safety violations may result in fines of $5 per resident per occurrence.

Room Keys

Each student receives a key to his/her room at the time of check-in to the residence halls. Students may not duplicate their room key under any circumstances, and all students are reminded to lock their doors at all times and to carry their keys on their person. When keys are lost or stolen, students should request a new key or lock change immediately to ensure personal safety and security of belongings. Lost keys will be billed at a charge of $55 per each replaced core.

Should a key break off in a lock or stop working, the student will not be charged for a new key. The student must, however, bring the pieces of the key (or the inoperative key) to the Office of Residence Life. Otherwise, the student will be billed for a lost or stolen key. Students must return their keys to the Office of Residence Life prior to leaving the campus at the end of the school year, when changing rooms or when leaving the institution permanently. Students will be billed for a key at check-out if no key is turned in.

Loan Key

In emergencies, loan keys are available for students who are locked out of their own room. All Lancaster Court residents can contact Public Safety (610-660-1111) for all lock-out assistance. All other resident students should refer to the following procedure:

- Weekday hours of 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.: students must come to the Office of Residence Life on the ground floor of LaFarge Residence Center in order to check-out a loaner key
- Weekday hours of 5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.: students can contact Public Safety for assistance (610-660-1111)
- Weekday hours of 7:00 p.m. – 12midnight: students can contact the RA on duty in their area for lockout assistance
- Weekday hours of midnight – 9:00 a.m.: students can contact Public Safety
- Weekend hours 7:00 p.m. – 2:00 a.m.; students can contact the RA on duty in their area
- Weekend hours 2:00 a.m. – 7:00 p.m.: students can contact Public Safety

Process: Resident students who come to the Office of Residence Life must show picture identification or provide their student I.D. number. Only residents of the room will be permitted to check-out a loan key. The student will sign the loan key log acknowledging receipt of key and consequences for non-return of loan key. All loan keys must be returned the same day by 4:00 p.m. A $25 fee will be automatically assessed to the student's account if a key is not returned by this time. If the key is not returned by noon the following day, in addition to the $25 fee, a lock change will be initiated. Note: Loss of a loan key will result in an automatic core charge ($55 per core) and the $25 fee. When a loan key is returned, the student must show his/her room key to verify possession.

Guests and Visitation

The University's policies on guests and visitation are anchored in a concern for residence hall security, the privacy rights of roommates and building residents, and the maintenance of an atmosphere conducive to academic achievement. The philosophy of the University, given its Jesuit heritage and tradition, dictates that students will adhere to all norms and values associated with Catholic teachings. In the proper context, hosting guests is a privilege that can facilitate personal and social development and enhance the quality of life on campus. The University has set the following policies concerning registering guests and visitation hours. A guest is a person who is not an occupant of the room in which he/she is present.

Guest and Sign-in Policy

Rooms are private and this privacy is conditioned by the nature of living in a Catholic community. The right of a resident to privacy outweighs another's right to guest privileges. If the presence of a guest is an invasion of a roommate's privacy, the guest must leave. Privacy extends beyond the student rooms to include restroom facilities. Men must use restrooms and showers designated for males and women must use restrooms and showers designated for females. Common area restrooms are provided on the ground floor of each high-rise residence hall.

Any student who is not a resident of the facility that he/she has entered must be signed in by a resident of that facility. The nonresident must surrender his/her identification card to the desk officer who will, in turn, provide the guest with a color-coded guest pass. Any guest who is not a member of the Saint Joseph's community must provide photo identification to receive a guest pass and be signed into the residence facility. In most circumstances, guests who do not have photo identification (such as a driver's license or student identification from another college or university) cannot be signed into the facility as a guest. The pass is only valid in the building in which it was signed out and is limited to a 48 hour period. Each time a guest leaves the host's building, the guest must return his or her pass and sign out.

Male guests may be hosted overnight only in rooms reserved for men; female guests may be hosted overnight only in rooms reserved for women. The Resident Assistant should be notified of the guest's presence and the permission of the room's other occupant(s) must be obtained by the hosting student for an overnight guest. The hosting of guests in individual rooms must not interfere with the roommates' use of the room, and may not span more than two consecutive days per month. Residents are responsible for their guests' behavior and observance of the University rules in rooms and throughout the residence halls and on campus. A resident may lose his/her guest privileges (and/or residence status) if a guest is involved in violation of University policy.

Each resident student is permitted to sign-in two guests (visitors who are not building residents). In order to facilitate this privilege, the Security Desks in each of the Residence Centers have initiated the following procedures:

- 1) The pass is only valid in the building in which it was signed out, not in any other campus residence facility.
- 2) The guest must be with the host at all times.
- 3) The guest can retrieve his/her photo identification by returning the pass to the security desk.
- 4) The guest and sign-in policy does not allow for in and out privileges. All non-residents must sign-out and turn in their guest pass every time they leave the building and sign in again if they return. (See "Residence Hall Security")

It is the responsibility of the host to ensure that guests return their guest passes when their visit is over. Loss of a guest pass will result in a fee of $10. Abuse of the guest pass policy will result in disciplinary action.

Violation of the guest policy will render students subject to disciplinary action ranging from loss of privileges for a specific time up to and including suspension or dismissal from the residence community, depending on the seriousness of the infraction. The Residence Life staff may suspend guest privileges during University break periods, even if the residence halls are officially open. The University reserves the right to remove from campus a guest who has violated University regulations. Guests who have been removed from campus and return are viewed as trespassers and are subject to arrest. Students who have questions or concerns about the above information should contact a Residence Life Staff member for clarification.

Visitation for First Year Residents

The University has an obligation to assist new students in their transition from living at home to living in a campus residential community. Accordingly, visitation hours for first year residence halls (i.e. LaFarge, McShain, First-Year Campus Houses & Sourin) are established as follows:

Same Gender Guests: 24 hour visitation privileges for same gender guests will be granted to first year residents with the understanding that they have signed in their guest consistent with the Guest and Sign-in Policy.

Opposite Gender Guests: Guests of the opposite gender are permitted in first year resident rooms and suites only during visitation hours. Visitation hours will be posted in each freshman residence hall. (8:00 a.m. to 12:00 a.m. Sunday-Thursday, 8:00 a.m. to 2:00 a.m. Friday-Saturday).

Guests of the opposite gender are permitted in designated building lounges or in main lobby areas outside of the posted visitation hours, provided that they are accompanied by a current resident of that building and that their presence is not disruptive to the residential community.

Visitation for Upper Class Residents

24 hour visitation privileges for all guests will be granted to upper class residents with the understanding that they abide with the Guest and Sign-in Policy.

Room Access/Search Policy

To assure individuals of reasonable privacy and to protect the well being of the community, the Office of Residence Life has adopted the following procedures regarding access/search of University rooms occupied by students:

Room Access: In all emergency situations which could affect the health and welfare of the community, or if there is a reasonable suspicion of an illegal act, rooms may be entered by Security and/or Residence Life staff. Rooms may be entered for maintenance, repairs or safety inspections. No room will be entered unannounced. Discovery of any contraband by University personnel while conducting maintenance or safety inspections can be used against the student in whose room it is found. Any illegal substance or material will be turned over to the police.

Room Searches: If there is a reasonable suspicion of illegal activity, rooms may be searched by a team of Security and Residence Life supervisors. Searches must be requested by the Director of Public Safety and Security or the Director of Residence Life (or their designees). These searches must be authorized by the Vice President for Student Life or his/her designee. A reasonable attempt shall be made to notify the student of the search and to have the student present for the search.

Personal Medical and Property Insurance

The University cannot and does not assume responsibility for personal accident, injury, or illness sustained by residents, guest or visitors nor for any damage, theft, fire or loss of any property belonging to residents, guests, visitors or others.

The University does not provide or endorse the sale of any insurance products; however, we recommend that students secure adequate insurance through their parents' medical policy, and homeowners insurance policies or similar products.
