For his exceptional commitment to the ideals of outstanding teaching and for his dedication to his students, Stephen J. Porth, Ph.D., professor of management, has been named the recipient of the 2021 Christian R. and Mary F. Lindback Award for Distinguished Teaching. Dr. Porth adheres to high standards of rigor in all of his courses, while also demonstrating an enduring commitment to cura personalis, getting to know and care about each of his students. One student lauds him as “a dedicated leader committed to all students’ success.”

Dr. Porth’s signature course is Business Policy, the Haub School of Business’s undergraduate capstone course, which he was instrumental in founding and for which he wrote the text. The course includes a semester-long team project, and each semester one team per section participates in a Business Policy Competition. Dr. Porth’s teams often take first place honors and, as with his teaching in general, the key to his success as competition mentor is the excellence to which he holds himself and his students, together with the individualized attention and guidance he offers.

Dr. Porth has also made numerous contributions to the Haub School’s MBA programs; indeed, he is at the forefront in the development of new courses. He is a generous mentor to his faculty colleagues and, beyond Saint Joseph’s University, he is a recognized leader in the field of Jesuit business education. Dr. Porth is the senior editor of the Journal for Jesuit Business Education, a peer-reviewed, interdisciplinary journal of the Colleagues in Jesuit Business Education (CJBE) dedicated to the publication and distribution of scholarly work with a focus on the distinctiveness of business education in the Jesuit tradition.

TENGELMANN DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AND RESEARCH AWARD

THANIGAVELAN JAMBULINGAM, PH.D.

Professor of Pharmaceutical and Healthcare Marketing

Thani Jambulingam, Ph.D., professor of pharmaceutical and healthcare marketing, is the 2021 recipient of the Tengelmann Award for Distinguished Teaching and Scholarship. His scholarship portfolio includes 25 peer-reviewed articles, five other scholarly publications, 48 referred, and 16 non-referred presentations at international, national, regional and local conferences. Dr. Jambulingam is the recipient of the 2019 Emerald Literati Network Award for Excellence for articles published in the International Journal of Pharmaceutical and Healthcare Marketing. Dr. Jambulingam's research falls into two areas: organizational strategy and regulatory economics, in which he examines the impact of regulations related to sales and marketing of pharmaceuticals on the pharmaceutical and life sciences industry's performance and future healthcare policies.

Dr. Jambulingam's research has helped to shape and inform his teaching. At the undergraduate level, he teaches Marketing Research and Supply Chain Management & Pricing, courses in which he infuses his research on organizational strategy. He also teaches in the MBA program, the Pharmaceutical & Healthcare Marketing MBA and the cohort program for physicians at the graduate level, courses in which he integrates his research on regulatory economics and strategy. Dr. Jambulingam's ongoing relationship with the pharmaceutical industry leaders directly benefits our students by providing valuable introductions to industry stakeholders and career guidance.

CATHERINE S. MURRAY LIFETIME SERVICE AWARD

RAQUEL KENNEDY BERGEN, PH.D. '89

Professor of Sociology

This year's recipient of the Catherine S. Murray Lifetime Service Award is Raquel Kennedy Bergen, Ph.D., professor of sociology, whose passion for social justice and longstanding service to the University are deeply intertwined.

Dr. Bergen's most valuable service has always been in the area of women's advancement. Perhaps most vital is her work with the Rape Education and Prevention Program (REPP), through which she has helped to create safe spaces for students experiencing sexual assault and harassment. In addition to a 24-hour hotline service, REPP helps to raise awareness through such events as Take Back the Night, a yearly vigil in which sexual assault survivors share powerful testimonials. Dr. Bergen is actively involved in community-engaged scholarship that helps survivors. She also works with the Kristin Mitchell Foundation, played a pivotal role in the University's Women's Center initiative and has served as an appointee by the Governor on the state of Pennsylvania's Ethics Commission.

Dr. Bergen served previously as chair of the Department of Sociology and as program director for gender studies. She continues to teach a core course for minors, through which she advises students, sponsors events and engages in activities that promote gender equity.

In nominating her for this award, a colleague notes, "through all of her service, Dr. Bergen remains among the most genuine, kind and supportive people..."; she is a dedicated scholar, and "a master teacher," having been honored with the Lindback Award for Distinguished Teaching in 2019. The broader University community is deeply enriched by Dr. Bergen's commitment to social justice.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The first year in the academic life of Saint Joseph's College opened with a ceremony, the Mass of the Holy Spirit, and closed with a ceremony, a commencement exercise. In the years since, the academic year at Saint Joseph's has continued to open with a solemn Mass of the Holy Spirit and to close with a formal commencement. Thus firmly rooted in the history of Saint Joseph's, the ceremony in which you share today is part of a still older historical tradition, that of the medieval university, where as early as the 13th century, the awarding of academic degrees was attended with great ceremony and solemnity.

Today's academic procession replicates the march through the streets of Paris (or one of the other great university centers of the time) of the doctors and masters of the university, their somber gowns, brightened by the colored ornamentation of their hoods, testifying to their status as members of a corporate body, free of feudal controls, which alone possessed the right to fix the standards for academic degrees and licenses. Their gowns and hoods, practical garments designed to ward off the chill of unheated lecture halls and libraries and to provide adequate space to shelter books and manuscripts, provide the models for the gowns worn on ceremonial occasions by the professors and students of today.

The cut of the gown indicates the level of the degree. The bachelor's gown, always black in color, is cut simply, with long, pointed sleeves, and is worn closed. The traditional master's gown resembles the bachelor's except for the cut of the sleeves; these are quite long and cut above the elbow so that the lower part of the sleeve, closed at the bottom, hangs behind the wearer's arm or coat sleeve. Much more elaborate is the doctor's gown, embellished with velvet panels down the front and around the neck and with three velvet chevrons on each of its bell-shaped sleeves. The master's and doctor's gowns may be worn open or closed.

Hoods also vary in cut according to the degree represented; the bachelor's again being the most simple and doctor's the most elaborate. The hood is lined with silk in the colors of the university that granted the wearer's highest degree, and the color of the bordering velvet indicates the field of study to which the degree pertains.

THE SEAL OF SAINT JOSEPH'S UNIVERSITY

The first seal of Saint Joseph's College designed in 1852, the year of incorporation, featured a half-length figure of St. Joseph holding the Christ Child. The choice of this image for the first corporate seal reflects the founding of the college at St. Joseph's, the first Catholic church in Philadelphia, as well as the piety of Felix Joseph Barbelin, S.J., pastor of the church and founder of the college. This first seal was surrounded by one star for each state in the Union, a wreath of olive leaves and a bald eagle holding a banner inscribed E Pluribus Unum (Out of Many, One) at crest. The arms of the republic would have been important symbols for the new college to put forward, founded, as it was, at a time when the loyalty and patriotism of Catholics was questioned by Nativists.

By the turn of the century, the college had left the safety of the founding parish church, built a splendid new campus in North Philadelphia and developed a collegiate structure and identity. In 1903, John F. X. O'Connor, S.J., designed a new seal, more in keeping with the new collegiate identity. His design included most of the heraldic emblems, or charges, found in the modern shield of Saint Joseph's University.

The modern shield is quartered, that is, divided into four equal parts by a cross. In the upper left quarter, the dexter chief in heraldic terms, are 15 bands (bends): seven gold and eight red. The seven gold bands represent the seven sons of the House of Loyola: St. Ignatius and his six brothers. Red and gold are traditional as they are the heraldic colors of the royal House of Castille, to which the Loyola's were loyal.

In the upper right quarter, the sinister chief, is the coat of arms of the House of Loyola: two wolves at a kettle, said to symbolize the hospitality of the House. In the lower left quarter, the dexter base, is a lily, an iconographic attribute of St. Joseph, the patron of the University.

In the lower right quarter, the sinister base, is the emblem of the Society of Jesus. The letters "IHS" inscribed in a radiating sun at center are the Greek iota, eta, and sigma, the first three letters of the word "Jesus" in Greek. Rising out of the "H" is a cross, the symbol of redemption and salvation through Christianity. Below are three nails symbolizing the Passion of Christ.

The seal of the University is composed of the full heraldic shield with a periphery bearing the words "Saint Joseph's University Philadelphia 1851." The shield is used for institutional identification and ornamentation while the seal is used on diplomas, transcripts, and for the attestation of documents.

ALMA MATER

*Saint Joseph's hail! In song we praise our mother dear and fair.
In life's grim battle, we'll march on with Faith and strength to dare.
For valiant deeds make stout our hearts to prove your heirs are true.
So come rejoice and with one voice pledge loyal love to you.*

*Saint Joseph's hail! Our blood runs proud to hold tradition's fame, for words of gold on history's scroll shed glory on your name.
To honor God, to love God's world, crusaders for each fray.
Against the sky our colours fly, deep crimson folds and gray.*
