THE PRESIDENT, BOARD OF TRUSTEES, AND FACULTY OF SAINT JOSEPH'S UNIVERSITY

TO ALL WHO VIEW THESE PRESENT LETTERS

GIVE GREETINGS IN THE LORD

*T*oday, the University honors Marlene Sánchez Dooner in recognition of her outstanding professional achievements and dedication to Saint Joseph's University.

Sánchez Dooner is the former executive vice president for Comcast NBCUniversal Telemundo Enterprises, where she was responsible for operations, finance and strategic initiatives for NBCUniversal's Hispanic franchises.

Originally from Puerto Rico, Sánchez Dooner has had a distinguished career. Prior to joining NBCUniversal, Sánchez Dooner served as senior vice president for Comcast Corporation, overseeing all aspects of Comcast's relationships with the institutional investment community and shareholders, as the corporation grew to a Fortune 50 global media and technology company. For nearly two decades at Comcast, she led financial communications, most notably during the company's acquisition of NBCUniversal, and strategically repositioned Comcast in the financial community during and after its landmark 2002 acquisition of AT&T Broadband. Prior to that, she was a vice president at PNC Bank, where she managed a corporate lending portfolio and developed comprehensive banking relationships with Fortune 500 clients across a variety of industries.

Since receiving her bachelor's degree from Saint Joseph's in 1983, Sánchez Dooner has remained a dedicated and generous alumna. She has served on the University's Board of Trustees, the Women's Leadership Council and the Erivan K. Haub School of Business Board of Visitors. She was the first recipient of the Alumni Professional Achievement Award in 2016.

"I am really proud and happy and, frankly, flattered that I'm being recognized with this award," she said about receiving the Alumni Professional Achievement Award in 2016. "As the first woman to get it, and the first Hispanic woman, I am really delighted. It supports a view of diversity that is very important to me and that Jesuit traditions stand for."

Sánchez Dooner also earned a master's in finance from Drexel University in 1990. She is currently a trustee for the Philadelphia Museum of Art, and a member of the Barnes Foundation's Ambassador's Board, AmeriCares' Leadership Council, and the Maguire Art Museum Advisory Council. LINDBACK AWARD FOR DISTINGUISHED TEACHING

ROBERTO C. RAMOS, PhD

Roberto C. Ramos, PhD, a widely respected professor of physics, is known for his innovative teaching methods in both introductory and graduate level courses. Dr. Ramos makes extensive use of physical demonstrations, flips classroom pedagogy in introductory courses to involve students more often and pioneers storytelling video projects in several classes.

Dr. Ramos' contributions extend well beyond the classroom. He was awarded the 2022 Homiller Award for Teaching Excellence at the University of the Sciences, along with the 2016 USciences Bright Ideas Award for Teaching Innovations. He has mentored both undergraduate and graduate student researchers, and has been published in top scientific journals including Science, Nature Communications, Physical Review and Journal of Applied Physics.

Dr. Ramos serves as faculty advisor to the University chapter of the Society of Physics Students, a chapter that has won several awards during his tenure. For over a decade, he has also led the summertime Physics Wonder Girls Camp for middle school-aged girls. The camp, which has received widespread recognition, provides an important formative experience for the girls and for the undergraduate students who serve as counselors and mentors. Throughout his career, Dr. Ramos has challenged students and helped them reach their full potential.

TENGELMANN DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AND RESEARCH AWARD

AIMEE LAPOINTE TEROSKY, PhD

Dr. Terosky serves as professor of educational leadership and is the Director of the Interdisciplinary Doctor of Education Program for Educational Leaders (IDEPEL). In her career, Dr. Terosky has served as an assistant principal, teaching consultant and researcher, and is a recognized leader in her field.

Since joining Saint Joseph's, she has provided leadership and direction to our doctoral program in educational leadership, developed seven new courses, taught multiple courses at both the master's and doctoral levels and directed dozens of theses and dissertations.

Her research has focused on the needs of teachers and principals working in K-12 urban schools, as well as on higher education.

Dr. Terosky has authored or co-authored five books, nine book chapters and twenty-two scholarly journal articles, while remaining committed to practical engagement with schools and educational outreach networks on local and international levels. She is the University liaison to the Philadelphia School District and a founding director of Foi et Joie, the largest Jesuit educational network in Haiti.

Dr. Terosky exemplifies the values of our Jesuit educational mission: personal excellence, professional success and a lived commitment to service with and for others.

CATHERINE S. MURRAY LIFETIME SERVICE AWARD

FRANK BERNT, PhD

In his three-plus decades as a part of the University community, Frank Bernt, PhD, has played a key role in advancing the Jesuit mission through his service in governance, assessment and evaluation of academic programs and time spent in the classroom.

Dr. Bernt chaired the Assessment Committee for the General Education Program and was a member of both the Middle States Assessment and Evaluation Committees for our 2002-2004 Self-Study. He assisted with the transition of the Department of Education into its own school, serving as Associate Dean of the School of Health Studies and Education. More recently, Dr. Bernt guided University leadership through a reorganization of the school into the School of Education and Human Development.

His deep commitment to the University mission was evident in his nine-year tenure as Director of the Faith-Justice Institute, during which he was responsible for extraordinary growth. His focus on Ignatian principles is evident in his work internally, serving on, and leading, many identity-related search and planning committees; and externally, organizing numerous service immersion trips and engagement with the community in Philadelphia.

Leadership in service, the University's mission and the causes of faith and social justice are embedded in Dr. Bernt's way of life which he lives with rare humility, compassion and dedication.

EXPLANATION OF ACADEMIC REGALIA

The first year in the academic life of Saint Joseph's College opened with a ceremony, the Mass of the Holy Spirit, and closed with a ceremony, a commencement exercise. In the years since, the academic year at Saint Joseph's has continued to open with a solemn Mass of the Holy Spirit and to close with a formal commencement. Thus firmly rooted in the history of Saint Joseph's, the ceremony in which you share today is part of a still older historical tradition, that of the medieval university, where as early as the 13th century, the awarding of academic degrees was attended with great ceremony and solemnity.

Today's academic procession replicates the march through the streets of Paris (or one of the other great university centers of the time) of the doctors and masters of the university, their somber gowns, brightened by the colored ornamentation of their hoods, testifying to their status as members of a corporate body, free of feudal controls, which alone possessed the right to fix the standards for academic degrees and licenses. Their gowns and hoods, practical garments designed to ward off the chill of unheated lecture halls and libraries and to provide adequate space to shelter books and manuscripts, provide the models for the gowns worn on ceremonial occasions by the professors and students of today.

The cut of the gown indicates the level of the degree. The bachelor's gown, always black in color, is cut simply, with long, pointed sleeves, and is worn closed. The traditional master's gown resembles the bachelor's except for the cut of the sleeves; these are quite long and cut above the elbow so that the lower part of the sleeve, closed at the bottom, hangs behind the wearer's arm or coat sleeve. Much more elaborate is the doctor's gown, embellished with velvet panels down the front and around the neck and with three velvet chevrons on each of its bell-shaped sleeves. The master's and doctor's gowns may be worn open or closed.

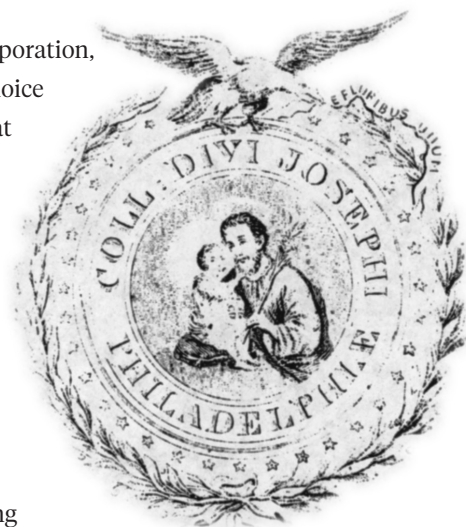

Hoods also vary in cut according to the degree represented; the bachelor's again being the most simple and doctor's the most elaborate. The hood is lined with silk in the colors of the university that granted the wearer's highest degree, and the color of the bordering velvet indicates the field of study to which the degree pertains.

THE SEAL OF SAINT JOSEPH'S UNIVERSITY

The first seal of Saint Joseph's College designed in 1852, the year of incorporation, featured a half-length figure of St. Joseph holding the Christ Child. The choice of this image for the first corporate seal reflects the founding of the college at St. Joseph's, the first Catholic church in Philadelphia, as well as the piety of Felix Joseph Barbelin, S.J., pastor of the church and founder of the college. This first seal was surrounded by one star for each state in the Union, a wreath of olive leaves and a bald eagle holding a banner inscribed E Pluribus Unum (Out of Many, One) at crest. The arms of the republic would have been important symbols for the new college to put forward, founded, as it was, at a time when the loyalty and patriotism of Catholics was questioned by Nativists.

By the turn of the century, the college had left the safety of the founding parish church, built a splendid new campus in North Philadelphia and developed a collegiate structure and identity. In 1903, John F. X. O'Connor, S.J., designed a new seal, more in keeping with the new collegiate identity. His design included most of the heraldic emblems, or charges, found in the modern shield of Saint Joseph's University.

The modern shield is quartered, that is, divided into four equal parts by a cross. In the upper left quarter, the dexter chief in heraldic terms, are 15 bands (bends): seven gold and eight red. The seven gold bands represent the seven sons of the House of Loyola: St. Ignatius and his six brothers. Red and gold are traditional as they are the heraldic colors of the royal House of Castille, to which the Loyola's were loyal.

In the upper right quarter, the sinister chief, is the coat of arms of the House of Loyola: two wolves at a kettle, said to symbolize the hospitality of the House. In the lower left quarter, the dexter base, is a lily, an iconographic attribute of St. Joseph, the patron of the University.

In the lower right quarter, the sinister base, is the emblem of the Society of Jesus. The letters "IHS" inscribed in a radiating sun at center are the Greek iota, eta, and sigma, the first three letters of the word "Jesus" in Greek. Rising out of the "H" is a cross, the symbol of redemption and salvation through Christianity. Below are three nails symbolizing the Passion of Christ.

The seal of the University is composed of the full heraldic shield with a periphery bearing the words "Saint Joseph's University Philadelphia 1851." The shield is used for institutional identification and ornamentation while the seal is used on diplomas, transcripts, and for the attestation of documents.

ALMA MATER

*Saint Joseph's hail! In song we praise our mother dear and fair.
In life's grim battle, we'll march on with Faith and strength to dare.
For valiant deeds make stout our hearts to prove your heirs are true.
So come rejoice and with one voice pledge loyal love to you.*

*Saint Joseph's hail! Our blood runs proud to hold tradition's fame.
For words of gold on history's scroll shed glory on your name.
To honor God, to love God's world, your champions for each fray.
Against the sky our colors fly, deep crimson folds and gray.*
